

*"I felt transported into the world of Miss Alice Paul.
 I imagined what it must have been like to be there, fighting in the streets with Alice."*
 Marcia Schwemer Board Member, The June L. Mazer Lesbian Archives

Tea with Alice and Me is a full length one woman performance that takes the audience to women's tearooms ~ Seneca, Selfridges, The National Women's Party, Women's Bookstores. Of course it is really about a cup of revolution served up in nonviolent direct action. From 1775 through today, Zoe takes you on her militant, revolutionary, feminist call to action. Hundreds of pictures and personal stories transport you to each time and lace she describes.

Photo Credits: Josh Barash & City of West Hollywood

Tea with Alice and Me is my heart song to Miss Paul. My mission is to introduce you to the brilliant, strategic, relentless champion of EQUALITY.
 She is my North Star, my teacher, my inspiration and I am committed to carry her as far as the winds allow. I am very happy in reaching so high, collating over 40 years of passion and setting hearts on fire.

Zoe

Zoe Nicholson's front-line radical experience informs her presentation of history in a tour-de-force demonstration of why we ask students to understand the value of a purpose beyond themselves. Distinguishing between radical and moderate courses of action, she humorously and graciously bestows the ethical decisions upon her audience as we confront the tasks challenging us as a society, as a nation, today.

M. Mamigonian, PhD Department of English and Kutler Center for Integrated and Independent Study, Harvard-Westlake Upper School

*Zoe transported the standing room only audience from one era to the next and back again.
 You were simply brilliant. Funny. Rich. Engaging. Inspiring.*

Laura Kanter Director of Policy, Advocacy and Youth Programs, LGBT Center OC

